West Kelowna Name Approved

BC's Provincial Cabinet approved Council's request to rename the Westside District Municipality to the District of West Kelowna as amended in the community's Letters Patent.

"It's the final hurdle we had to leap and now the name of the community is confirmed," says Mayor Doug Findlater. "It was a long time coming and I think this final approval will put to rest any question as to the name of the community, enabling us to move forward with the many important decisions ahead."

West Kelowna residents are advised that mailing addresses will not change under the new name unless directed by Council. All mailing addresses (Kelowna or Westbank) will remain the same. Canada Post has advised it will deliver mail regardless of the community name used as long as the postal code is correct.
